HOW A KING MAY HAVE LOST A FORTUNE. RAINBOW'S CHANCES FOR THE DERBY-INCREASE

OF THE MORRIS FIRM.

Ante-post betting in this country is not so dangerous as it is in England and France, because there is less of it. It is doubtful if in the United States there has ever been a bookmaker who laid so heavily against horse as to be tempted to stop him by fair or foul means. such a thing is common enough in England, not unknown in France. King Milan, one of the most distinguished plungers ever known in Europe de Paris, and it became so evident us the day for the to the certain ruin of the bookmaker, that the latter chased him for nearly twice the value of the stakes and declared him out of the race. It was the only way to save himself. He was supposed to be honest. He made no effort to have the horse stopped. If he he made no and won the race, the bookmaker's losses would have been over $1,000,000. This is a pretty story. Many people believe it is absolutely true. Perhaps it has been embellished. Foreign bookmakers do, however, take great chances, and there is nothing to prevent a man from baying a horse and declaring him out of his engagements.

it was the young owner of the Venture Stable who bought Salvia out of a seiling race she had won. John A. Morris said to the rash youth: "Young man, you have my warmest sympathy. That filly will either break you, or get you ruled off. She will break your watch at daylight, and break you and all your friends the afternoon. I am very sorry for you."

"I believe you are keeping back your good two-yearolds," some one remarked to Assemblyman Hennen Morris, the other day.

No." replied the statesman, " we are not. It isn't cur policy to keep anything back. We are running the best we have. If there are any better in the stable we have not found it out."

John A. Morris said: "Ours are all daylight horsethis year. You ought to come out here some morning and see them work. They can beat any herses in the world then. If I was a betting man I'd be ruined. I couldn't help betting on them when I see them breaking watches in their trials at daylight. I don't know why it is that they are so fond of fast work at daylight. I believe most of them are aireid of the crowds in the grand stand in the afternoon. Anna B. is, I'm sure. And yet she is very fast. If she'd only run as fast as she knows how very few horses could teat her."

bome one proposed that a sumulant be ad-

one proposed that a stimulant be administered. No, no," said Mr. Morris. "I never believed in giving whiskey to a horse. I don't mind giving some of my own medicine."

Mr. Morris instinctively felt in his pockets, to see if he had with him the usual supply of hyoscyamus and hyoscyamus.

Dead heats have become so frequent at Morris Park that whenever the horses in any race pass the post, the erowd in the betting ring ask itself, unanimously:
"What is it? Another dead heat?" Even men with tickets for third place do not now tear them up till the official board exhibits the numbers, because they feel that they might get a "dead heat and a divide." And why should there not be dead heats in racing! Some stupid persons contend that a dead heat is an impossibility. What do they know about it? How can they prove it? What is there to prevent two or three, or even four or five horses from passing a given point Strephon Sir Artuur...

the mile and a half in 2:36. Do you mean to tell me that they will beat that time very much? As a matter of fact, I think Rainbow can do even better than that. I think he can run the mile in 1:43, and the next half in fifty-two seconds, which would make the time of the race 2:35. I think 2:35 will win. It is a mistake to suppose that Rainbow is overtrained or undertrained. He is in the very pink of condition. No horse could be in more perfect health. He looks well and eats well.

Morris firm. There were numerous pleasantries at the expense of the establishment, all of which the Mcssrs. Morris themselves enjoyed. They even suggested humorous allusions to the length of the firm name. Some of the owners and truiners early noticed the addition of the letters "D. H." and promptly decided that the "Alphabet Stable" would sown very well. Others liked the "Initial Stable" better, and there were not a few who, in view of the extraordinary number of dead heats at Morris lark, declared that the "D" and "H" were put in the firm to signify dead heats. Dr. Morris suggested that his own idea was to style the firm "D. H. Morris, Father & Brother."

"My connection with the stable has already brought luck." he said at the end of the day, after the defeat of Aleppo, Reckon, Rainbow, Clysmic and Ambulance. "We didn't win anything, but I saved the firm $500 by refusing to start Melody and Namina against Domino in the Great Eclipse. They were a little surprised that there was not a dead heat. That, however, might have involved a reconstruction of the plot, which seems to give entire satisfaction in its present shape. On next Wednesday night DeWolf Hopper and James Rowe will have a "racing night" at the Broadway Theatre. Rowe himself, it is asserted, will go on the stage to drop the flag, and that alone will be worth going miles and miles to see.
Jockeys, owners, trainers, track officials, judges and others have been invited to occupy the boxes on this occasion, and a dead heat is promised. There is to be a race of some sort between Mr. Hopper and Miss Fox. and Judge McDowell has been asked to decide which wins. Mr. Fitzgetaid will, of course, act as patrol judge, and Mr. Eakins, of "The World," has patrol judge, and Mr. Eakins, of "The World," has been requested to write one of his beautiful archaeological descriptions of all that happens. The new rules of racing will be strictly enforced by Colonel

The long ranges of Morris Park will give way on saturday to the compact little pocket edition of a racetrack at Sheepshead Bay, where the spring meeting of the Coney Island Jockey Club begin-Mr. McCalmont won only $25,000 on Isinglass in on that day. A fat programme has been arranged. Mr. McCalmont won only $25,000 on Isingliss in the Derby. He made one bet about fifteen months ago-$500 against $25,000, which is just 50 to 1. The Derby stakes are worth about $27,500. Marcus Daly did a little better over the success of Montana in the suburban last year. His winnings were $57,000, and suburban last year. His winnings were $57,000, and suburban last year. The important the stakes were worth about $17,000. The important question is, it would be almost impossible to convey them to and from the track and to give them ample accommodation inside of the inclosures set annually this year in the suburbant. ample accommodation inside of the inclosures set apart for racegoets. So it has been decided to postpone the running of the most popular of American races till Tuesday. The Suburban alone is a sufficient inducement for many thousand people to visit Sheepshead Eay, and a tremendous crowd will see it run. There will be a tremendous crowd oil baturday also, for the programme on that day bristles with rich stakes, which will bring out the most celebrated horses.

MORRIS PARK ENTRIES FOR TO-DAY. In the second race at Morris Para to-day Don Alonzo, at 107 pounds, is expected to meet Sir Walter at 107. Ramepo at 107 and Sport at 97; distance, one mile and Ramspo at 107 and Sport at 97; distance, one mile and a sixteenth. Hammde, Long Beach and Anna B. are also announced as probable starters in this race, but these three are of no importance in comparison with Don Alonzo, Sir Walter, Ramape and Sport. If these four go to the post an excellent race is assured, but Michael F. Dwyer has shown a disposition to withdraw Don Alonzo from his races recently. If all of the four run, Lambley will, of course, ride Don Alonzo: Doggett will be on Sir Walter, and Hamilton will procably ride Ramapo, as Overton, the regular stable lockey, cannot get down to the weight. Taral, who has ridden Sport so well, cannot ride below 110 pounds, so some lightweight boy must ride the colt, and whether such a boy can get all his speed out of him is open to question.

The Suburban Handicap is likely to prove a great race. Lamplighter, Tahmaay, Banquet and Charade are the choices at present. His Highless is nooked upon as a doubtful starter. He shows the effects of his hard race for the Metropolitan Handicap.

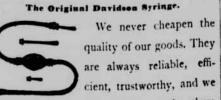

The second race to-day should furnish an exciting contest, as Don Alonzo, Sport, Ramapo and Sir Waiter are entered. Sport carries only ninety-seven pounds. The others are asked to concede him ten pounds. in making clothes, this was. It had to go. And yet people thought it a pretty good thing in its day. Some of them couldn't believe, all at once, that there was anything better. Just so with every improvement. The old way always has some benighter ones who cling to it to the last.

in raining clothes, un-making them-that's the trouble with the washboard. But it's going now and going fast, to join the spinning wheel. Women find it doesn't pay to rub their clothes to pieces over it. They can wash better with Pearline. Less work, less wear, no ruinous rub, rub, rub. That's the modern way of washing-safe, easy, quick, cheap. No wonder that many women have thrown away the washboard.

Send Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell von "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you it Back something in place of Pearline, do the honest thing—send it back.

ARMY AND NAVY NOTES.

THE DELAY ON THE ERICSSON.

NAVAL OFFICERS GETTING IMPATIENT OVER IT -ADVANCE IN THE MANUFACTURE OF ARMOR PLATE-THE ARMY AT THE FAIR.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUSE.] Washington, June 11. Engineer officers of the Navy express no little impatience at the delay in the work of completing torpedo boat No. 2, the Ericsson. The vessel was contracted for on October 8, 1891, and with all her machinery and fixings was to have been completed and ready delivery within one year from that date.

According to the last reports made by the contractors—the lown from Works, of Dubuque—she was not even ready for launching. At least 25 per cent of the work on the hull and machiners remains to be done. At the present rate of progress there is little probability that she will be com-Mississippi in the early naturn, she will not get out this contingency which crosses so much impatience in naval circles. Special attention was given by the speed twenty-four Linets in smooth water—and it important that observations and calculations possible at an early date for use in fature plans of producing naval armor have been received during ports show that both contractors, the Bethlehem and the Carnegie companies, are about prepared to deliver armor rapidly. Officials at the Navy Department feel much encouraged at the outlook, and express the opinion that hereafter delays in completing vessels the legends told about them.

Achilles is said to have chased Hector several times round the walls of Troy, but when sandow inflated his chest he appeared to have wind enough to been turned over to the Government. Since then the A TRAINER'S NOTES ON THE TURE, the man who rails most against a dead heat, it has always been noticed is the one who has the short horse. He who gets 10 to 1 about a driven. The climax of the exhibition was the balancing of three horses upon sandow's broad classt. He formed a bridge of his body from his shoulders to his knees, and across him a board was placed on which the horses stood. The horses were really ponles, and one was small even for a pony, but they were a heavy weight, and the feat was warmly applicated by the audience. orses stood. No. 402, of the Brooklyn City Line, at Third-ave, and Pifty-second-st., Brooklyn. The man was fatally injured and was removed to serey Hospital, where he died. The motorman of the car, Michael Reynolds, of No. 679 Henry-st., was arrested.

HE WILL PROBABLY DIE FROM THE WOUND.

While standing in front of his house, No. 529 Carroll-st, Brooklyn, with his wife and three children, Andrew Berucci was suidenly attacked by Lorenzo Masoita, of No. 522 President-st., and wounded in the head with a long knife. Berucci drew a revolver and shot Masorta in the back, disabling him. The two men had quarrelled several days ago in Lain's shoe factory, Sterling Place and Fifth-ave., and the each then vowed to kill the other

MR. SEYMOUP MAY MAKE THE INVESTIGATION.

Washington, June 11.-Some days ago Secretary Hoke smith, at the request of the Commissioner of Patents, asked the Attorney-General for an opinion as to whether the Commissioner has the power to appoint a referee who is not an officer of the bureau to take testimony and report his conclusions thereon in the matter of the charges preferred by Church & Church, of this city, against W. E. Simonds, ex-Commissioner of patents, and Foster & Freeman, patent attorneys now pending before the Patent Office. In reply the Solicitor-General, with the approval of Attorney General Olney, has advised the Secretary of the Interior that the question submitted is one that should have been referred to the Assistant Attorney for the Department of the interior. He calls attention, however, to the statute which forbids the accoptance of woluntary service by the Government or the employ ment of officers whose compensation is not specifically provided for, and also that the contingent fund of the department cannot be used for such a purpose. The indications are, therefore, that Commissioner Seymour will conduct the case in person. APPRAISER COOPER'S RESIGNATION.

Washington, June 11.-President Cleveland has ceived the resignation of Appraiser Cooper, at New-York. He has not yet acted upon it and, it is intimated, may not until a partial report is received from the commission investigating the New-York Custom House on this part of the inquiry. It is rather unusual for an official to tender his resignation while undergoing investigation, and it is more unusual to have it accepted in such circumstances. Inimatic is made by Ireasury Department officials that the President may not see his way clear to accept the resignation at all, but may feel called upon to dispose of Mr. Cooper's case in some other way.

A MEDAL FOR SAVING LIFE.

Washington, June 11.—Secretary Cartisle has awarded a silver life-saving medal to Captain Valentine Jones, of the steamer Hudsor, plying on the Great Lakes, for saving the lives of six men and one woman from the barge Sunshine, near Pelec, Lake Eric, in October, 1892. The act was one of great gallantry, and Captain Jones, in its performance, ran the risk of losing bis own ship, which, with its cargo, was worth about $1,500,000.
